

Donor Privacy Policy

Skylight Opera Theatre does not sell or trade donor personal or contact information with any third party for any purposes. All information is solely for the use of Skylight Opera Theatre to support its ongoing activities and to communicate with donors about donor opportunities, programs and services available through Skylight Opera Theatre. In addition, donors may indicate their desire to make donations anonymously. Finally, donors may ask to be solicited only by a chosen method (electronic, telefunding, direct mail, personal solicitation, etc.), or may request to be removed from future solicitation lists. All such requests will be honored unless otherwise rescinded by the donor. All donors are automatically protected by this policy. Changes to this policy which remove restrictions on previously unauthorized use of donor information will be communicated to donors with an option to "opt-out" of any such use.
